QUALITY, NOT QUANTITY.
My son, you may have a whole type foundry at your command, and yet turn out blacksmith printing. It is not the quantity of type, or the number of presses that "gets there" always. The printer that understands his business will be satisfied with a few fonts of well selected type, a good press, and good inks, and he will "get there" with the best of them. The News has the type, the press, the inks, the printer. Give us a trial order and you will give us another,
